RFP-10-68
March 12, 2010

The State would like to make potential bidders for diabetic supply services aware that the format of State contracts, including professional services contracts, is mandated by the State. Many clauses in the boilerplate professional services contract are required by the Indiana Department of Administration (IDOA). Such clauses include the following: Confidentiality (Paragraph 37.C); Notice to Parties (Paragraph #30); Assignment (Paragraph #5); Compliance with Laws (Paragraph #9). However, the State is willing to consider any suggestions or changes that bidders might suggest.

The State intends to incorporate Rebate Agreements into diabetic services contracts as an Exhibit. In addition, specific legal cites permitting the State to enter into agreements are not customarily noted within the body of professional services contracts, but they are listed on the Executive Document Summary (EDS) which accompanies contracts through the signatory process. Such cites may also be included in a contract as a "Whereas" clauses if a bidder believes they are necessary.
